

My Personal Objectives

My personal statement of general objectives is a part of my overall personal vision. My objectives are simply a target or desired result. Whether it involves personal goals, family goals, or business goals, the principles are the same. My personal objectives give direction and focus and vision to my goals.

My Personal Statement Of General Objectives:

Define Your Personal Objectives

Proper discipline takes an objective (a personal or professional destination) and determines specific goals that will ultimately bring it into reality. For example, it doesn't make much sense to get the kids excited about taking a vacation, pack, load the family into the car, fill the car with gas, pull out onto the highway, and drive around with no destination.

What do you want to do? How do you want to fulfill yourself? What do you want to see happen? What kind of results are you looking for? What do you want to accomplish this year? What is your time horizon?